

Instructor Biography: RYAN KURYLO

With many years of self-directed fine art experience Ryan has developed expertise in sculptural fine arts, anatomy, portraiture, bronze casting, mold making and patina. Ryan focused on extensive anatomy study while training and working under professional sculptors around the world, gaining the skills and experience essential to create his exquisite sculptural artworks. He is passionate about public art and has produced a number of cherished public bronze monuments. Generous with his knowledge and encouraging to all levels of artist, Ryan is an accomplished instructor who loves to share his experience, weaving art therapy and art history into his hands-on workshops. His goal is to inspire and encourage all people to explore and heal through artistic experience.